Living Stone Sculpture Class Terms & Conditions

- Bookings for a class can only be confirmed after receipt of a non-returnable deposit.
- The balance of class fees should be paid at least four weeks before the class starts.
- If you cancel your booking after making full payment we will make every effort to fill your place but reserve the right to retain fees paid if we are unsuccessful.
- Should we have to cancel a lesson for any reason we will provide as much notice as possible and either re-schedule the canceled lesson to a mutually acceptable alternative date or refund one eighth of the class fee for each canceled lesson.
- The class fee includes drinks and a snack during each lesson, but does not include the cost of a stone of your choice.
- The class fee is not refundable if you are only able to complete part of the course.
- For Health and Safety reasons you must provide and wear approved safety glasses during the classes.
- Whilst we take all reasonable precautions, we are sadly unable to accept responsibility in the event of injury to class participants, or loss/damage to their property.
- Photographs of class participants and their work taken during the class may be published, including online, in promotional material for Living Stone Sculpture courses and classes.

If you have questions about any aspect of the classes please just ask
